TROJAN 1965

FOREWORD

From a shadow of "effortless barbarism" a civilization emerged twenty-four hundred years ago which produced consequential changes in the fields of art, science, and government. It was during the Golden Age of Athens that the seeds of democracy were sown, that the value of man as an individual capable of thought was recognized, and that literature blossomed from its bud.

The ideals which ancient Greece created are today influencing our lives. We strive to improve and to expand the institution of democracy through participation in student government; we seek the competition of athletic endeavor; and we learn about ourselves through study of the classics.

When we graduate from Findlay High School, we have reached the first plateau in the perpetual struggle to realize those ideals. The 1965 TROJAN wishes to present the goals and accomplishments thus far achieved.

Seniors

I am a mighty, mighty Senior.

Standing with my Trojan shield before me,
I try to realize just who I am:
Tears shed over a defeat, a victory,
A flag at half-staff, commencement—
Doubts concerning colleges, friends,
My own abilities, my future—
And the importance of Life and the world around me;
I learned from my teachers not only facts,
But also the realities of Life.
Those sports events, chapels, and club meetings
Will not be forgotten;
Friendships, made strong by Trojan bonds
Will last—beyond forever.
Yes, all this is a part of me—
A mighty, mighty Senior.

I am a jolly, jolly Junior.
I am used to being a Trojan, and am proud of it;
This year I chose a class ring to tell others
That I am a Trojan;
For the Seniors who called me "lowly one"
I gave a prom;
Education—how I rack my brain,
Deciding upon a college.
What do I want to do with my life?
Life has more problems than last year;
It is not as carefree, but still it's fun;
I am restless and I wait for the time
When they will no longer call me
A jolly, jolly Junior.

Sophomores

I am a silly, silly sophomore.

This Trojan way of life was new to me,
Yet soon it was my way.
While trying to adjust here,
I could not help but learn about
The swimming pool and the Senior's
elevator—the hard way;
I learned about the horrors of initiations,
Trying to change my schedule to accommodate lunch,
And the ritual I had to honor for every Senior I met.
Now I am the underdog, but just for now am I
A silly, silly sophomore.

Representative of the fine faculty of Findlay High School is biology instructor Richard W. Phillips. For the second time in his 25 years of teaching, "Doc" has been named Ohio's Biology Teacher of the Year. The National Association of Biology Teachers named Mr. Phillips for the honor after careful and extensive screening of all applicants.

The NABT awarded a certificate to Mr. Phillips and also to the school.

Trojan Spotlights

Dave Sorenson, unanimous choice for the first team, All-Buckeye Conference, averaged 18 points a game to become the second highest scorer in the Buckeye Conference with a 270 point total.

Returning letterman Tom Norris this year fired a 67 to set new school records and ended the season with the low average of 75. The Buckeye Conference golf champion added yet another honor to his long list by winning the post season Mid-America golf Championship with a 50 foot putt.

Beginning their 1964 football season in true Greek tradition, the Trojans marched triumphantly over their first four opponents. With spectacular victories over some of the best teams in the state, the Findlay gridders completed the first half of their schedule rated sixth in the state. Under the skilled tutelage of head mentor Hal Paul, the Trojans placed two Men on the ALL-State and All-Buckeye Conference teams. Even in the face of a mid-season losing streak, the men kept up their spirits and made a great comeback.

This year's junior varsity squad, numbering 51 strong, comprised the largest team in the last five years. With coaches Jim Siewert and Bernie Palmateer, the junior Trojans boasted a 6—1 record for the season. The boys suffered their only loss at the hands of rival Lima Senior.

With the memory of a good season and the promise of a better one to come, the TROJAN doffs her cap to a fine group of boys.

Cheerleaders

Always ready with a new cheer formation were the varsity cheerleaders. With agility and untiring spirit they aroused the student body to wholehearted support of the Trojans.

The junior varsity squad cheered at the home basketball games and pep rallies. After serving as a reserve cheerleader for one season, the girls are then eligible for varsity service. Mrs. Sandra Wiedenhofer was the faculty advisor for both groups.

KNEELING: A. Behney, B. Stough, L. Suman.
STANDING: L. Miller, C. Ruffel, L. Chapman.

Pepper Club

Teamwork and unabounded enthusiasm combined to make Pepper Club the sparkplug of the basketball cheering section. The club with Mrs. Nancy McLean as the faculty advisor numbered 99 girls. Serving on the Executive Board were Kay Albritton, president; Ann Strathman, secretary; and Elaine Freemyer, treasurer. Since its initiation in 1963, the Pepper Club has received the assistance of Mrs. George Barrett and Mrs. Edward Miller.

The FHS basketball season began with a new coach, an intried team, and an indeflatable spirit. As the season progressed, the varsity became an experienced nucleus of five, headed by Coach John Stozich. The 7-12 record, although a considerable improvement over last year's performance was not indicative of the hustle and determination which the boys exhibited at all times. A foreign court jinx bothered them throughout the year as they won only 2 of their 8 away games. On the home court the Trojan basketballers, sparked by the "run and shoot" tactics of co-captains Ken Bell and Derek Price, had resounding victories against Buckeye Conference rivals Fremont Ross and Marion Harding. Averaging 18 points a game, junior Dave Sorenson was a unanimous choice for the first team all-Buckeye Conference, as well as being the second highest scorer in the conference with 270 points.

The junior varsity wound up their season with a successful 9-9 record. Midseason triumphs over Marion and Lorain Admiral King were considered the highpoints of the year, according to J.V. coach Jim Siewert.

In the mid-season match with B-G Norris posted a 67 to set a new school record. Under the mentorship of Carl Bachman, the linksmen captured fourth place in state competition. With all four lettermen returning next year, the golf team forsees an even better season.

BASEBALL

Getting off to a slow start handicapped the FHS baseball squad, but the men finished the season with a 4-6 record. Hopes for next year are high with eight returning lettermen to boost morales. The Student Council actively sponsored many projects during the school year. Homecoming, Korean war orphan fund, Valentine Ball, Citizenship Day, and Teacher Appreciation Week were some of the events. The highlight for the 62 member council was in April when they served as hosts for the 12th annual Ohio Association of Student Councils convention.

To fulfill their responsibility as the student government organization, the council provided the leadership for the Interclub Council which regulated all school activities. Wielding the gavel for the year was Bob Conway assisted by John Cindric, vice-president; Carol Ruffel, secretary; Jack McKisson, treasurer; Terry Corbin, parliamentarian; and Ken Grubb, sergeant-at-arms.

Barbara Brucklacher, American sister; Masako Takahashi, Jean Schober.

A.F.S. Club

The American Field Service Club truly followed their inter-national motto of "Walk together, talk together, all ye peoples of the world." Masako Takahashi brought the ring of Japanese laughter and the warmth of oriental charm to the halls of F.H.S. Jean Schober enriched her fellow students with the experiences of her summer in Norway as an American Abroad.

In February, the club with its 38 members hosted the annual A.F.S. weekend for the exchange students staying in northwestern Ohio. The enthusiasm generated by the weekend launched the intensive money raising campaign to sponsor next year's A.F.S. 'er. The "guiding forces" for the year were Jean Schober, president; Kay Albritton, vice-president; Luana Yoakam, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Hite, adviser.

DECA

Preparing future leaders for experiences in marketing and distribution is the aim of the Distributive Education Clubs of America. Opportunities to develop civic consciousness, social intelligence, leadership abilities, and vocational skills were made available through participation in district, state, and national contests, fund-raising projects, and on-the-job experiences. This year's officers were Joe Bibler, Bob Marvin, Ruth Myers, Karen Opperman, and Marie Shindeldecker. Mr. Taylor served as coordinator for the program.

Thespians

Catering to the theatrical interests at FHS was Thespians, an honorary organization whose members were asked to join on the basis of their dramatic contributions, both on stage and in stage crews. The troop of 49 members in March presented The Desperate Hours, and in May there was a series of one-act plays. From that initial meeting in early fall, the TROJAN staff has worked diligently to produce a book worthy of the time and effort that has gone into it. Many feverish hours have been spent by the copy and lay-out staffs to put together the pages of this annual. Contributing to a large degree to the beauty of the book was the art staff, headed by Janealla Hills, and the photography department, under the expert guidance of juniors Dave Monroe and Mark Schieber. Randy Railing in publicity and Anne Sabroske in activities have added signnficantly to the success of the book, while the nimble fingers of Pat Hamlin aond Jan Russell have struggled to fit large amounts of copy and many names into spaces much too small. The watchful eye of advisor Richard Schellin has to a great extent been the determining factor in the amount of work that was achieved in the short amount of time. Thank goodness it's all over!!

Findlay High Concert Band

Under the lead baton of Clifford Hite, the FHS concert band continued to be the band with the stereophonic sound as their performances at Band-Tasia and the spring festival revealed. Funds for new uniforms and bus trips to away football games for the 150-member marching band were provided by the Kiwanis sponsored peanut sales. The year's officers were Jay Oman, president; Dale Trier vice-president; Paula Weston, secretary; and Scott Fisher, social chairman.

The sound of music echoed from the vocal music department when the junior-senior choir rehearsed for the various concerts it presented during the school year. Under the direction of Donald Jefferies, the 103 voice choir planned and executed the Thanksgiving and Christmas chapels. HIGHLIGHTS

Homecoming 1964

To the tune of "A Pretty Girl is like a Melody," Jean Dukes began her reign as Findlay High School's 1964 Homecoming queen. Upon receiving the traditional crown and sceptor from Student Council president, Bob Conway at the October 2, halftime festivities, Jean embarked on a weekend of bonfires, victory celebrations, and nostalgic reunions with returning alumni.

Attending Queen Jean were Sue Carpenter escorted by Tom Palmer, Kay Dauterman by Dave Beltz, Sandy Dietsch by Jim Baker, Jonnie Kuhlman by Ted Winklejohn, and Nina Peterman by Dick Hartman. Jean's escort for the evening was Bob Jefferies.

On Saturday evening the Student Council honored the court at the annual Homecoming dance, where in an atmosphere of renewed friendship, students and alumni danced to the music of the Stardusters.

The Mouse That Roared

A hilarious but improbable comedy, The Mouse That Roared, was presented at R. L. Heminger Auditorium on December 4 and 5th.

The Tri-class play which involved the massive invasion of the United States by the Grand Duchy of Fenberg was directed by Miss Bette Blakslee, speech, English, and drama teacher LeAnn Clark as Duchess Gloriana and Alan Leis as Tully Bascomb headed the cast.

VALENTINE BALL

On the evening of February 13, the patron saint of romance descended on Findlay High at the annual St. Valentine's Ball, sponsored by the Student Council. Seniors Dick Hartman and Nina Peterman reigned as king and queen for the event while couples danced to the music of the Stardusters.

CITIZENSHIP DAY

Each year one day is set aside to honor Findlay High's outstanding citizens, highlighted by the presence of a noted speaker. This year's speaker was Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, who is director of international studies at Bradley University. Dr. Nyaradi contrasted war-torn Hungary during the Hungarian Revolution to life in the United States. To the American youth, he suggested that by maintaining a positive attitude toward his country and being ready for sacrifices, Americans can combat and preserve peace.

Those honored for outstanding citizenship were seniors Lisa Ede and John Grauel, juniors Julie Bish and Steve Lanning, and sophomores Becky Topper and Bill Goodman.

OASC Convention

The 12th Annual Ohio Association of Student Councils convention convened at Findlay High during the third weekend in April. For our Student Council, the hectic three-day meeting climaxed two years of planning and preparation. Many overtime hours were expended by convention workers and by the Student Council advisers, Mrs. Russell and Mr. Miller in soliciting the necessary housing for the 500 delegates. With the whole-hearted support of the student body, Findlay High hosted "the best convention ever."

Assemblies

The social event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom, was celebrated on May 28, in an aura of cotton bales and steamboats as the theme of "Blues Along the Mississippi" transformed the gym into a lazy river town. Accenting the "blues" of this final tribute to seniors was the music of the Tony Celeste Orchestra. The rugged pace of the post-prom party sponsored by local service clubs, included early morning visits to the bowling lanes, golfing range and skating rink. A sunrise breakfast at Camp Berry completed the "evening's" activities.

BACCALAUREATE

SENIOR CHAPEL

Senior chapel speakers, discussing the topic "Patriotism and You," were Bob Verrey, Linda Walton, Jane Poff, Tom Palmer, Anne Sabroske, and Luana Yoakam.

The following Sunday, at the annual baccalaureate services, the Reverend Thomas R. Ashton of the Trinity Episcopal Church delivered his address on "The Time is Now."

COMMENCEMENT

After four years of background preparation and two dress rehearsals, the principals of this play, "Commencement 1965," gave an emotion packed performance. The four speakers Lisa Ede, Jean Schober, Charles Clapper, and John Grauel stole the show with their soliloquies on "Integrity," "Attitudes," "Training," and "Individualism," but everyone agreed that the real stars of the June 11th presentation were the 532 members of the graduating class. As the final strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" faded away, and the last diploma was accepted with a flourish; the curtain descended on the ninety-third graduation ceremonies.

Climb the steps to success with a college education. A college diploma represents your key to the future. The four Findlay College couples pictured above symbolize four years of achievement beyond high school. They realize how important higher education is—and so should you. Begin to plan now for your college education.

THE GRASS ISN'T NECESSARILY GREENER

ON THE OTHER SIDE

Sure it's nice to go away to college. But there are advantages to staying at home too. You are more fortunate than many young men and women like you. You have a good college right at your back doorstep.

It will pay you to investigate the program of Findlay College. You may find just what you have been looking elsewhere for. And if you decide to attend, you won't be alone—more than 200 of your fellow citizens are doing the same thing.

Findlay College offers programs in liberal arts, fine arts, business administration, and teacher education. Pre-professional instruction in law, medicine, and engineering is also available.

Write for information to Mr. Robert Crosby, director of admissions at Findlay College. Better yet, pick up the telephone and dial Mr. Crosby at 422-8313, Ext. 226. It's his job to talk to prospective students. He'll be more than happy to arrange for a visit and personal tour of the campus facilities.
